AaSys will discuss methods to increase the resiliency of your Incident Management Program. While none of us want to be victims of cyber or information security incidents, we can all take steps to optimize our program, returning to business as usual in record time. Following CERT guidelines, the discussion will focus on key components of the bank's Incident Response Plan. Discussions will dovetail with a hands-on blueprint of how to recover from a Ransomware attack. (Ransomware is probably the most dreaded attack that we face today!)

This meeting will be somewhat different from other ISO Peer Groups! Not only will it be virtual, but as homework BEFORE the event we ask that attendee's take a few minutes to review your institution's current plan (enabling you to better contrast what you have with the discussion points).

Q & A Session will take place after the presentation.
